MACHINE GUN COMPANY AND B COMPANY OF PENNA. REGIMENT IDENTIFIED ON MARNE FRONT

Surrounded on Three Sides in a Dense Wood They Fight Like Devils for Hours, Tearing a Clear Path Through the Huns and Rejoin Their Command; Win Every Combat With Greatly Superior Numbers; First Sergeant Jones of Machine Gun Company Cited for Bravery and the Cross of War.

CO. B, NEW BRIGHTON, HAS 26 MEN WOUNDED

Raymond G. Carroll, special correspondent of the Pittsburgh Dispatch and the Philadelphia Ledger, in a cablegram sent last night gives information which establishes the presence of some units of the 110th Regiment on the north bank of the Marne eastward from Chateau-Thierry where a series of desperate encounters have taken place with the Germans in the wooded area called the Bois de Conde. The American troops, including at least part of the 110th Regiment, were stationed in this wood for instruction alongside the French. When the Germans crossed the Marne this body of French and American troops formed the advanced line and "notably distinguished themselves," says the correspondent, during the earlier stages of the battle now in progress.

Surrounded by the enemy on three sides by overwhelming numbers they shot, bayoneted and clubbed their way through and rejoined their command. The correspondent visited headquarters yesterday and obtained details of the terrific fighting and amazing acts of heroism displayed by the Pennsylvania guardsmen. The following are mentioned as some of the striking acts of bravery:

First Sergeant Herbert C. Jones, of the 110th Regiment Machine Gun Company, is reported by the correspondent to have taken charge of 18 men and after two days of continuous fighting through the woods finally reformed his regiment. They refused to surrender again and again, often being surrounded by enemy groups twice their numbers, but somehow managed to get through. Jones has been cited by his colonel and the French commander for the Croix de Guerre.

Sergeant Jones is a son of B. R. Jones of Somerset; he is 23 years of age. Among men from this vicinity who are members of the 110th Machine Gun Company, is Thomas O'Donnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. O'Donnell of Everett.

Correspondent Carroll states that Captain William Fish of Company B, New Brighton, and his lieutenants, Oliver Hayman of Devon and Claude Smith of New Castle, brought in 123 men of their company, of whom 25 were wounded.

"They told me," says the correspondent, "that they had had steady fighting for 12 hours, but in every combat bested the enemy."

"A French officer I saw at headquarters said: 'They fight like lions, never give up and never get tired.'"

Lieutenant Hayman, mentioned in the cablegram, will be remembered by many persons in Connellsville as being the officer in command of the detachment of Company B, 3rd Regiment of National Guard of Pennsylvania, stationed at Connellsville for some months preceding the mustering of the guard into the federal service. Upon the consolidation of the 3rd and 110th regiments, which took place at Camp Hancock, Lieutenant Hayman was assigned to Company B of the new organization, which was designated as the 110th regiment.

Captain Fish is an experienced guardman having been in command of Company B on the Mexican border in 1916. When Major Thompson, commanding the first battalion of the 110th, was sent to France in advance of the regiment, Captain Fish was made acting major and was in charge of the battalion during the overseas movement. Upon reaching France Major Thompson resumed command and Captain Fish returned to his company.

No information is available to indicate that Company D was engaged in this fight. It is attached to the same battalion as Company B.

LARGE NUMBERS OF ENEMY HOURLY FALLING IN THE HANDS OF FOCH'S FIGHTERS

German High Command Rushing Reinforcements to the Scene in Hopes of Stemming the Tide of Defeat but, According to Reports From Paris, Advance has Not Even Been Checked; Battle Continues Violently Along the Whole Front.

SUDDEN CESSATION OF THE MARNE OFFENSIVE NOW IS EXPECTED

By Associated Press.

WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES ON THE AISNE-MARNE FRONT, July 19.—1 P. M.—American and French forces are continuing to advance their spearhead midway between Soissons and Chateau Thierry. The Americans took several towns in the course of the night. Early this morning they also made further progress.

During the night German re-enforcements were coming from the region in the north but the expected counter has not appeared up to an early hour this afternoon.

American troops still continue to hold the plateau southwest of Soissons where on Thursday the Germans made their first organized counter attack. This fell down, however, as soon as the American heavy artillery got into action.

This was one of the fiercest struggles in connection with the Franco-American offensive. The battle raged southwest of Soissons for some time, the Germans falling back finally under the rain of the heavy gunfire of the Americans.

One of the towns taken by the Americans last night was Vierzy, six miles south of Soissons. Towns to the north and south of this were also taken in the carrying out of the plan to straighten the entire line on the Soissons-Chateau Thierry front.

OVER 100 GUNS TAKEN

PARIS, July 19.—Between the Aisne and the Marne, in spite of new arrivals of German re-enforcements, the Allies are making progress and are capturing a large number of prisoners, according to the official statement issued by the war office today.

South of the Marne, by a vigorous attack, the French have ejected the enemy from the outskirts of Oubilly.

More than 100 guns have been captured in the Allied attacks on the Aisne-Marne front according to the Herald today.

On the front between Rheims and the Marne the French have recaptured Mont Boisin and made progress in the Roy woods and the Courton woods, capturing four cannon and 400 prisoners.

PRISONERS AT LEAST 13,000

PARIS, July 19.—(Havas Agency)—L'Homme Libre, without intending to divulge the number of prisoners and guns captured, says it is fully equivalent to the number announced by the Germans as having been captured on July 15. (The German official statement on Tuesday announced that 13,000 prisoners had been taken Monday).

The newspapers intentionally give little information in regard to the battle going on and the results obtained. They hold themselves generally to the official statements. All the critics are enthusiastic over the success obtained yesterday. By taking the initiative it is held that General Foch has compelled the Germans at the moment of boasting that they were delivering a supreme peace assault to use their reserves at the point and time selected by the generalissimo.

The Echo De Paris expresses the conviction that the Franco-American successes will be confirmed fully today. It says the German general staff will do its utmost to straighten out its affairs but the Allies have the upper hand. The question for General Ludendorff now is not whether to enter Epernay, declares the Matin, but to consider means for the salvation of the division he has thrown across the Marne.

OFFENSIVE ON MARNE FAILS.

WITH AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Thursday, July 18.—With nightfall of the fourth day of the battle east and west of Rheims a feeling of confidence prevades the Allied lines. After 80 hours of assault along lines of his own selection the enemy's offensive seemingly has failed. He is still behind the objective set for the first day's attack.

CONNELLVILLE INDULGES IN HILARIOUS CELEBRATION OVER DEFEAT OF THE BOCHES

Fire Whistle Sounds Signal for Greatest Late Night Demonstration Ever Staged in the City; Thousands Throng Streets to Get the War News and While It is Not All Authentic Their Ardor is Not Much Dampened by the Later and More Accurate Reports.

MAYOR, COUNCILMAN PRYCE AND OTHERS SPEAK

Connellsville, filled with wild enthusiasm by reports that American forces had rolled up the German front and taken anywhere from 100,000 to a quarter of a million prisoners, held a midnight parade last night, the celebration lasting until about 4 o'clock this morning. Between 2,000 and 3,000 persons were on the streets in any kind of dress, pajamas and kimonos being prominent.

Mayor John Duggan, Councilman M. B. Pryce and Attorney J. Kirk Renner made announcements of the "latest returns" to the masses at Brimstone corner every half hour. A parade led by State Treasurer H. M. Kephart, riding on a fire truck, drew in numbers as persons were awakened by the noise and joined the throng.

The celebration started about midnight, when persons coming in on late trains from Pittsburgh reported that thousands were on the streets there shouting the news of a great American and French victory. A crowd gathered near the West Penn waiting rooms, and an alarm was sent in to the fire department from Brimstone corner.

TWELVE FARMERS BRING PRODUCE TO THE CURB MARKET

Buyers There Also In Force Despite the War Excitement.

SOME SELL OUT QUICKLY

One, a Late Comer, Disposes of His Entire Stock in Ten Minutes; Miraculous Holds Some Off; Thought They Had to Pay Rent.

Although the demand was greater than the supply at the curb market last Tuesday, conditions were reversed this morning, and the farmers had plenty of produce for the many buyers who went to the lot in the rear of the postoffice for fresh goods. To make the market a complete success, however, it will be necessary for more customers to turn out each Tuesday and Friday, to buy up the produce and allow the farmers to return to their fields promptly.

This morning instead of two truck men, 12 farmers were on hand, hauling their goods in wagons and automobiles. Some had very heavy loads and by 8 o'clock when the market opened a large crowd of buyers had gathered. The most choice articles went quickly, especially peas and new tomatoes. Every kind of produce was on sale, all well prepared and fresh.

A. C. Oglesby sold out within an hour and it took less time for S. W. Dunn of Flatwoods to dispose of his stock. John Smith of Dunbar arrived late with a load of peas and butter. He sold out in 10 minutes. Other farmers with heavier loads did not sell out so quickly, but never in many years has there been so much fresh produce carried home in market baskets in Connellsville as there was this morning. Still, more buyers are expected.

Three Zepps Shot Down.

Their ages range from 10 to 12 years.

EIGHT DIVISIONS OF AMERICAN TROOPS ON AISNE-MARNE FRONT

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Eight divisions of American troops are believed to be represented in the Allied fighting on the Aisne-Marne front, according to information given today to members of the House Military Committee in their weekly conference with General March, chief of staff. It was stated that the drive now going on will not replace nor hinder the preparations for the great Allied offensive planned for later in the year.

CALLS FOR BRAKE

Middle-Aged Man Would Slow Up
Wheels of Time.

Is Living in Hope That Some Man
Will Devise a Workable Scheme for Renewing One's Lease of Life, and Do It Quickly.

"What we really need," said the middle-aged man, "is some way of slowing up the wheels of time."

"As every man who has begun to get on in life knows, the older he grows the faster the time seems to fly. In our youth every single day seems to be endless; but when we get to be about so old the years go so fast that they seem to spin around like pin-wheels."

"There was once an advertiser with a patent medicine to sell who started off his advertisement by describing himself as a retired physician whose sands of life had nearly run out. A well-meaning friend in the far West wrote to him saying that if he would mix a little molasses with the sands
they wouldn't run out so fast."

"Of course there was an idea in that; but the minute you come to think it over seriously you see that there is really nothing to it. To make the wheels of time turn slower, you'd have to have something more than molasses.
I have thought that perhaps we might invent some sort of brake, a very powerful brake for this purpose, but I guess there's really nothing in this idea, either."

"Lacking the means of making the wheels of time turn slower, so that we would seem to have more time, I have thought that perhaps somebody may yet devise a way of renewing our lease of life. If we could get an indefinite renewal of our life lease we wouldn't care how fast the wheels turned, because we'd have endless years for them to turn in."

"The man who could devise a workable plan of this sort would get rich beyond any sort of dreams whatever;
that is, if he could prolong his own life as well as sell life-renewal leases to others; for I fancy that, hard as this world may be in some respects, the great majority of us would like to continue living in it a long, long time, and would give all we had for that privilege."

"For myself, I can say that I like the world very well and I would like to stay on it indefinitely. If there is anybody now working on this life-lease-renewal device I hope he will get it running before the sands of my old-fashioned life shall have run out completely; and if when he opens up for business he will let me know where to find him I shall go to him; and if I have the price, take out as a first extension a renewal for about a century."

Spain Is Buying Planes.

The American government is buying mules and blankets in Spain and paying for them with planes made in the United States, according to George W.
Pound, manager of the National Piano Manufacturers' association, in calling attention to one of the striking developments at the present time in this country's export trade with neutrals generally. Mr. Pound said, "much of Spain's population has profited largely by the war, and the demand for planes has persisted in spite of the fact that the prices of all musical instruments in Spain have doubled and trebled since the war began."

Mr. Pound said that the American manufacturers were thereby offered an unusual opportunity to help the government pay the war bills as well as to meet the foreign demand for our goods.
In this connection, Mr. Pound said, piano manufacturers can only export their planes through government license.

Dealing With the Occult.

An astonishing number of books on occult subjects are being published in these days, especially on lines relating to the future life, the theme taking on a new interest because of the war and its losses. One writer, Prof. W. J.
Crawford of Belfast, is dealing with so-called spirit manifestations in a new way. For one thing, he has tried seating the medium on a weighing machine while the manifestations are going on and watching the varying record of her weight. He has found that where a chair or table was lev-itated an increase in her weight almost corresponding to the weight of the place of furniture was noted. When there were rappings her weight lessened, the amount lost varying with the intensity of the sounds. What these phenomena indicate to his mind is what he expects to prove by them does not appear.

Balzac Would Have Starved.

Some of the geniuses of earlier generations would have a hard time of it with chivalrous rations in Europe. Many of them are still remembered for their appetites. Thackeray and Dickens were both masterful at the table. Bal-zac was equal to making a dinner of eight dozen oysters, twelve cutlets, a duck, a pair of partridges, and all the customary "trimmings." Herbert Spencer once went upon a vegetable diet, and declared that after he returned to meat he had to rewrite everything he did in the interval to get virtue into it.

Regardless of the effect on genius, rationing is spreading. Even walking sticks have come under governmental control in England, and presumably a prospective purchaser will soon have to present a license to carry such an ornament.—Nation's Business.

Big Tuna Cannery.

Half a million dollars is to be expended in the construction of a large tuna cannery on the island of Maui, in the Hawaiian group, states The Cannery. The waters around the islands swarm with fish of every description, among which the tuna is predominant and attains an enormous size. The operation of this plant will be a valuable addition to the food supply of the United States and may lead to the establishment of an important fishing industry in the island territory.

"Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is just what I need. It is a splendid laxative, mild and pleasant and acts so quickly and easily. I wouldn't be without it, and keep it in our home all the time."

(From a letter to Dr. Caldwell written by Mr. G. C. Murphy, 4 Walker Street, Atlanta, Ga.)

Novelties in New Sweaters

An all-American idea has been taken up and is being exploited by the manufacturers of high-class sweaters. It is the introduction of decorations that look like and are inspired by the bead-work and other ornamental work done by American Indians on their garments. It is odd that this source of inspiration has not been more freely used, because it belongs to our own country and is distinctive and picturesque.

Anyone having a poor opinion of the ornamental beadwork and feather work done by the Indians will gain respect for them by looking into the matter. In museums there are collections of their head-dresses and garments that are surprising. They have lavished patient work on them and their designing and color work are worth studying.

One of these new sweaters that carry the imagination back to the days of the pioneers is shown at the left of the picture. Instead of being made of fine doeklin, slashed into a fringe at the bottom, it is of oyster-white silk, with a deep fringe of silk about the bottom. It is a square-necked, longsleeved slipover, with the same eye artfully shaped and finished, and there are no sleeves.

About the neck and down the front there appears a fringe of silk, and a pattern wrought in colored beads in a machine embroidery of small loops or knobs. The girdle is of the same silk.

Took the Biscuit.

The Mudcumbre Prevaricating and Debating society was in session, and all was proceeding peacefully and harmoniously, till the rat-story man spoke.

"Some people," he said, "consider the rat hasn't got much sense; but they're wrong. For instance, once I saw a mother place her year-old babe
in front of the cottage to sun himself, and to keep his spirit up, she gave the little chap a big feeding-bottle of milk. As I watched I saw a rat creep up to the child, and my heart was in my mouth. I feared for the baby. But bless you, the rat was only after the milk! He just slipped the teat out of the child's mouth and into his own, and then thoughtfully put the end of his tail into the child's mouth by way of a comforter!"

With a great sigh the president handed him the biscuit.—London Tit-Bits.

"Tacking Down" Edges of Fight.

Things were stirring along the front.
Miles away we could hear the battery heavies thundering and drumming and once in a while we detected the hammering staccato of a machine gun tacking down the loose edges of a fight that will never be recorded in history, with the earnestness and brightness of a man laying a carpet in a hurry.—Irvin S. Cobb in the Saturday Evening Post.

Much Lumber Wanted.

It is estimated that American lumbermen, accustomed to a wealth of material, waste two-thirds of it; and that by utilizing all parts of the tree,
the lumbering industry would yield daily 40,000 tons of paper, 3,000 tons of rope, 300,000 gallons of turpentine and great quantities of other products.

as the sweater and terminates in fringe.

These lovely new sweaters for "a belle savage" are made in several colors and their decoration is varied in as many ways as original Indian designs allow them to be. They ought to appeal to Young America, and it is easy to believe that Pocahontas made a creditable appearance at court
if she wore a bead-trimmed doeklin garment fashioned on the same lines.

A quiet sweater coat of silk jersey at the right of the picture lacks the audacity of its rival, but makes up for that in elegance. It is entirely plain and made shapely by shirtings across the back and a wide belt across the front, and will appeal to older women as well as to young wearers.

Defeat the Moths.

A good way to protect suits from the moths is to secure them in pasteboard boxes such as you can buy from the tailor or the tailor's supply store. The suits should be packed away in these boxes before moths begin to fly and then every open crack should be pasted together by means of strips of gummed paper, such as can be bought in rolls for a very small price. The tailor boxes may be kept on hand from year to year for this purpose.

"Gun Without a Peer."

What the Scientific American calls
"a gun without a peer" is the new 520 millimeter mobile howitzer built by the Crenset works for the French army. It is mounted on a railroad carriage and fires a shell 20.47 inches in diameter. It is a fort wrecker and one-shell from it is said to have sufficed to reduce Port Maitland on which the Germans had spent so much time and labor, to a pile of dust and debris.

Encore.

Hotel Proprietor.—Did you enjoy the concert playing in the next room to yours last night?
Guest (sighing).—Enjoy it! I should say not. I spent half the night pounding on the wall to make the idiot stop.
Proprietor.—Why, Jones told me this morning you applauded every one of his pieces and he was going to send for some more music right away so that he could play for you again.

Cockney Repartee.

Some of the senior boys from a Vauxhall school's literary class were taken to the old Vic to see "The Merchant of Venice."
When Shylock, in the court scene, was urgently demanding his pound of flesh, a bright cockney boy, in eager tones, cried out to the judge.
"Hi, you! Ask him for his meat card!"—London Tit-Bits.

The How and Why of Caloric Pipeless Heating

PIPELESS CALORIC HEATING

The CALORIC is not a pipe furnace with the pipes left off.
Neither is it an expedient, hasty put together to meet a demand. It is specially designed to heat homes, halls, churches, schools, factories,
etc., more uniformly, economically and satisfactorily than they have ever been heated by other systems.

The CALORIC works thru Nature's own laws of circulation by air currents. Warm air rises. Cold air falls. Warm air and cold air cannot occupy the same space at the same time.

HERE'S THE SECRET

In the same volume that the warm air is pumped up into the house, an equal amount of cold air is drawn into the furnace, where it is heated, molted by the vapor from the two gallon water tank, and then recirculated through the register. This continues as long as the fire burns.

There is a constant circulation of properly moistened warm air. Just as rainwater runs.

the itself, so this circulating warm air passing thru heat of from three hundred to eight hundred degrees, in which no solid fuel is kept pure and healthful.

The CALORIC is guaranteed by the oldest and largest manufacturers of warm air heating systems in the United States. You take no chances when you buy a CALORIC.

Whether your home is old or new, the Caloric is easily installed in one day, without interruption of your present heating arrangement.
No holes knocked in your walls, no cellar full of heat-wasting pipes.
The Caloric requires but one register and occupies little space. It burns any fuel, and needs hardly any attention. Makes housework one-third easier, as there is no mess from carrying in coal and carrying out ashes—no smoke, gas or soot.
Eliminates fire danger and increases
the value of your property.

Visit us and we will gladly supply full information without in the least obliging you to buy.

EAGLES MAKE READY

One of Greatest Lodge Conventions in Pittsburgh July 29 to Aug. 3.

PITTSBURGH, July 17.—Officers of the Grand Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, will reach here Sunday, to complete arrangements for the patriotic convention, July 29 to August 3, which, it is estimated, will bring at least 100,000 people to Pittsburgh. The grand officers will complete plans to raise $1,000,000 for the purpose of establishing Eagle headquarters at many points as near as possible to the firing lines.

Next week at least 250 Eagles from the 32 Western Pennsylvania aeries who will appear as hosts during the convention will meet in Pittsburgh and entertain the officers of the Grand Aerie on an excursion on the steamer Sunshine. Convention Secretary Dougherty has been notified that all of the aeries in Western Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia will send large marching clubs and floats to take part in the parade scheduled for Thursday evening, August 1. Congressman John M. Morin will be the chief marshal of the parade.

The "hasty training" of the Americans seems to be fully equal to German efficiency when it comes to putting haste into the movements of the retreating Germans.

A little offensive now and then is not relished by the Kaiser's men.

Company G has already acquired the reputation consistently maintained by its predecessors—that of holding its own, and a little more.

No inoculation is a sure preventive against a real case of war fever.

Prayer of a Fallen Soldier

(Found in the pocket of a British colonel killed in action in Flanders.)

Father of all, Helper of the free, we pray with anxious hearts for all who fight on sea and land and in the air to guard our homes and liberty. Make clear the vision of our leaders and their counsels wise.

Unto Thy care our ships and sea-men we commend; guard them from chance down with mines and all the dangers of this war at sea, and as of old give them the victory.

To men on watch give vigilance, to those below calm sleep. Make strong our soldiers' hearts and brace their nerves against the bursting shrapnel and the unseen fire that lays the next man low.

In pity blind them from the sight of fallen comrades left upon the field. May Christ Himself in Paradise receive the souls of those who pass through death.

Let not our soldiers ever doubt that they shall overcome the forces of that king who "seeks to wage through slaughter to a throne and shut the gate of mercy on mankind."

O God of Love and Pity, have compassion on the wounded, make bearable their pain or send unconsciousness.

To surgeons and dressers give strength that knows no failing and skill that suffers not from desperate haste.

To tired men give time to rest. Pity the poor beasts of service who suffer for man's wrong.

For us at home, let not that open shame be ours, that we forget to ease the suffering of the near and dear of brave men in the fighting line.

O Thou, who makest human hearts the channel of Thy answers to our prayers, let loose a flood of sympathy and help for children and their mothers who wander, desolate and suffering, leaving wrecked homes and fields and gardens trodden under ruthless feet.

With These, who suffer most of all, may we with reverence Thy burden share, for all are Thine and in Thine image made; they, too, are Thine who caused the wrong.

And this we beg for our dear Elder Brother's sake, who gave Himself for those he loved, Jesus Christ, our Lord.

Rippling Rhymes

By Walt Mason.

HELPING TO WIN.

Breathes there a man with soul so dead he never to himself hath said 'I'll dig up money, every chance, if that will help our boys in France. If coin will help to quash the Hun, I have no use for hoarded money. The hat I've worn since '03 will do another year for me; the shoes I bought three years ago will serve to bear me to and fro; the pants I drew in father's will are fit for ample service still. I root for Uncle Sam at base, so come along and pass the bat.' It's hard to understand the skates who's scheming early, scheming late, to see how little he can give; he ought to be ashamed to live. Committees call at his abode, and kindly ask him to unload. He backs and fills and bumps and bogs, and shoves some gifts through his jaws. "I dug up fifty cents last May, I can't spare anything today." And he can't face himself, that guy, who ought to hunt a hole and die. But in the long and years to come he'll find this world is out of plumb; he failed to whomp for liberty and while he lives on earth he'll be as welcome as the yale. He'll beg that hangs around the city morgue. Oh, woe! what, give until it hurts, until we've soaked our Sunday shirts, and when we've given all we own, still strive to give another bone.

Just Folks

By Walt Mason.

JUST A JOB.

Is it just a job, that is yours to hold. A task that offers you so much gold. Just so much work that is yours to do, with never a water-gate in view? What do you see, at your desk or loom?

Or the spot you fill in life's busy room, merely a flickering lamp that burns— With a steady light as the wall when turns.

And the same old grind in the same old ways. With all the tomorrow like yesterday.

Is it just a job, just a task to do, So many pieces to add and then Home for awhile and back again?

Are you just a clerk in a gaudy shop, Planned when a customer falls to sleep, Tending no key in the things you sell, Suddenly waiting the quiting bell?

Are your thoughts confined to the narrow space And the dreariness of your present place?

Is it just a job, or a golden chance? The first grim post of a fine advance, The starting place on the road which leads To the better joys and the bigger deeds?

Do your thoughts go out to the days to be, Can you ever look over the bridge, And see in the distance the splendid glow Of the broader life that you, too, may know?

What is your view of your crown— Is it just a job or a golden chance?

MOUNT PLEASANT CELEBRATES THE GERMAN DEFEAT

Town Spends Night in Wild
Jubilant Over News
From the Front.

MAJORS MAKE AN APOLOGY

Two Men Arrested for Disrespectful
Remarks About United States Fleet
They Were Drunk and Not Responsible When They Made Their Remarks

Special to The Courier.
MOUNT PLEASANT, July 19.—The town started last evening at 11:35 to celebrate our victories overseas and at 12 o'clock parades were still going on over town, the band and drum corps were out and the fire trucks. The fire whistle was used to summon the people and all night long was one round of joy and gaiety.

Francis Mullin.
Stephen Mullin, son of Peter Mullin, and Miss Florence Francis were married at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening at St. Joseph's church by Rev. John Hackett. The attendants were Miss Margaret Mullin and Henry Francis. Following the wedding ceremony a reception was held at the Francis home and Wednesday Mr. Mullin, who is a member of the Medical Corps at Camp Lee, left for camp.

Not Part of Celebration.
Miss Margaret Clark was given a hearing before Justice L. S. Rhodes last evening charged with disorderly conduct on Bridgeport street. She was given her choice of $5 fine or five days and paid the $5 fine. Miss Clark will be given a hearing before Justice L. S. Rhodes tonight.

Make Public Apology.
John Guzy and John Lugart, who were supposed to have made insulting remarks about the United States when asked to sober up and go to work, were given a hearing before Justice of the Peace L. S. Rhodes last evening charged with disorderly conduct. They pleaded guilty to the charge and stated that they had been drinking and made a public apology to the mob that had gathered for the hearing. They stated that as long as they were residents of the United States and they were needed to work so long would they work, and never would they utter a disrespectful word about America. They were fined $10 and made to pay the costs as a further lesson.

Personal.
Miss Helen Galloway has returned home from a visit paid Mrs. Jeanette Hascoc at New Florence.

HOW TO GROW FAT

A Low Stomach the Cause of This Nose, Nine Times in Ten.

If you are thin or emaciated, have a weak arm and neck, you can grow fat unless your food properly digests. People take food in proportion to the nutritive matter which the organs of digestion absorb and pass into the blood. Just as long as the nutritive matter passes along without being absorbed, just so long will you remain thin. Perhaps your stomach, bowels and liver need a tonic. If your digestion is not perfect, no matter how rich the food is, it will not be right at once. Miso-na will rid you of indigestion and every conceivable ailment of the stomach, bowels and liver. It is a powerful tonic, by building and toning up and not by encouraging a third stomach to continue its shiftless and health-destroying habits. It promptly drives away your stomach, clearing of gas, heaviness after eating. A. A. Clarke sells Miso-na and guarantees it to relieve indigestion, gas and car sickness, vomiting, constipation and all stomach diseases and disorders, or money back. Miso-na is sold by leading druggists. Adv.

The right thing to wear for every occasion of the summer is often a difficult problem. When it can be solved by one frock, the happy possessor of that particular dress knows real bliss. One such frock is shown here ready at the instant for wear at luncheon, a midsummer garden fete or for dining and dancing at any smart country club. It is exquisitely charming with the filmy lace-trimming on net.

SAVING OF 661 TRAINS EVERY DAY FOR FOUR MONTHS IS THE RECORD

Claimed by the Railroad Administration: Cars Were Loaded Heavier and Utilized to Better Advantage.
A statement issued by the Railroad Administration giving the complete returns for approximately 94 per cent of the mileage of roads whose annual operating revenues are in excess of $1,000,000 which show that in the month of April, 1918, as compared with the corresponding month last year, the freight traffic, measured in tons of revenue freight moved, one mile, increased 8.9 per cent.

The transportation of this extra traffic, says the statement, "was accomplished with an increase of only 1.3 per cent in freight train miles and with an actual decrease of 0.2 per cent in freight car miles. The better performance was made possible by the more complete utilization of freight cars and the more scientific loading of freight trains."

The average loaded freight car in April of this year carried 29.4 tons. The corresponding figure for last year was 26.7. Each loaded car this year, therefore, contained 3.7 tons (or 14.4 per cent) more than last year. "The number of tons of freight, in the average train of April this year was 696, as compared with 651 last April, a gain of 45 tons per train, or an increase of 6.9 per cent in freight loading efficiency."

"If the greater volume of freight traffic in April, 1918, had been handled with the average train load of April, 1917, it would have required 3,690,179 more freight trains one mile than were actually required in 1918 with the better supervision of car and train loading. It is assumed that each freight train ran 100 miles, then the better performance in April, 1918, was equivalent to a saving of 36,902 trains during the month, or a saving of 1,230 trains every day."

"A large part of the saving is due to the cheerful cooperation of the shipping public in making it possible more fully to utilize the carrying capacity of freight cars."

"The statement above referred to shows also the freight operation results for the first four months of 1918. Notwithstanding the extremely unfavorable weather conditions of January and February, with the resultant traffic congestion during those two months, the four months' figures compare favorably with the same four months of 1917. The railroads managed to move an increase of nearly one per cent in revenue freight tons one mile, with a decrease of 3.2 per cent in freight trains run one mile, and a decrease of 7.4 per cent in freight cars moved one mile. The improvement was due to the increase of 3.9 per cent in the tons per train, and an increase of 110 per cent in the tons per loaded car."

"Had the train load of the first four months of this year been the same as the train load of the first four months in 1917, the 1918 traffic would have required nearly eight millions of train miles more than actually were run during the first four months of this year. On the basis of 100 miles per train, the performance of this year month a saving of approximately 661 freight trains every day during the four months."

TRAINED NURSE ADVISES PEOPLE

"I was a great sufferer of stomach and liver trouble and cannot say enough in praise of Mary's Wonderful Remedy. It has done so much for me and I am recommending it to other sufferers. I was a trained nurse in military and other hospitals years ago, therefore many come to me for advice. I certainly received great benefit from Mary's Wonderful Remedy. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the carminative mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. A. A. Clarke and druggists everywhere. Adv."

THE PARAMOUNT

"ROUGH AND READY"—William Farnum's newest deluxe production is being presented today. The story of the production is vigorous and big and one entirely worthy of the appealing character of Bill Stratton, whom Mr. Farnum, America's popular screen actor, impersonates. It gives the star a great smashing role, the kind for which he is internationally famous. Bill Stratton's heart was seared by an unjust accusation but his purpose remained as steadfast as ever. In the interpretation of "Rough and Ready" Mr. Farnum supported by a cast of exceptional talent. From the leading woman, petite Violet Palmer, down to those who take small parts in only the mass scenes, scrupulous care was exercised in the choice. There is not a single moment in the picture where actors falter or interest lags. Bill Stratton is a man whose heart is as big and as clear as the great old Northland into which he goes to forget his lost love and in this role Mr. Farnum has found one of the finest and most appealing characterizations he has yet had for the cinema, and the work in the part is really superb. The whole production is exceedingly well mounted and extremely well staged. A selected comedy is also being shown, Monday Harold Lockwood will be seen in "Lead Me Your Name."

OPHEUM THEATRE

"THE HIRED MAN"—A Paramount drama features the "typical American boy," Charles Ray. Dealing with the struggle of Eary Holmes, the "Hired Man," to educate himself up to the standard set by Ruth Endicott, the pretty college-bred daughter of his "boss," the story portrays one of the most supreme human sacrifices possible, but ends in the most satisfactory manner, with the engagement of the two young people with the complete consent and approval of the father as well as the younger brother, for whom Eary has sacrificed so much. Monday and Tuesday William S. Hart appears in the Artcraft production, "Señah Yates." July 29-30 Guy Emery appears in the photodrama of his famous book, "Over the Top."

LOCAL BOYS ENJOY EVERY MINUTE AT CAMP T. J. STEWART

Corporal Kennel put the gloves on with Slinger and Kennel came out on top. Bob Lyon was the next combatant, and on the authority of "Cy" Lyon is the champion. "Bob" is one of the live wires of the camp in other things as well as boxing. We had a wrestling match in Company H street, next door, and intend to arrange one between Company H and ours.

Mess tent was lively this evening. Three cheers were given first for Lieutenant William Sellers who was leaving for Connelville in his car. We have to salute Billy now when we meet him, but wait until the pipes freeze next winter and we can get back at him. Captain Stone and Lieutenant Buttermore came in for their cheers. The company says they're "jolly good fellows." Last but not least the sergeants came in for a "tiger." They set up the ice cream and cake for mess. Tomorrow at noon the corporals are going to stand treat and Major Meyer is to be our guest. The major is a regular fellow and all are willing to work their heads off for him.

The non-coms are getting special instruction in first aid each night from Lieutenant Howard of Meadville and expect to be so proficient when they return that Dr. McCormick, Kerr and the rest of them will have to take in their shingles.

Bob Hannam and Bugler Atkins are pulling for a company "sing" tonight in the mess tent. Sergeant Joe Reed engineered the project. Joe is always on the job to see that the men enjoy themselves.

Bob Patterson says that he is the life of the company. Take Bob's word for it.

Your correspondent will be corporal of the guard for the next 24 hours.

OVERWHELMING GERMANS, ALLIES SWEEP ON

ALLIES CUT SOISSONS. CHATEAU THIERRY ROAD. LONDON, July 19.—On the left wing, which includes the Soissons sector, the Allied troops have cut or have underdug the high road from Soissons to Chateau Thierry, says a Reuters dispatch from the French front dated 11 o'clock Thursday. The railway from Soissons to Villers-Cotteret also has been cut. At several points in infiltration movements have been carried out by cavalry. They advanced through gaps in the retreating line and established themselves in villages farther ahead.

PERSHING CONFIRMS VICTORY REPORTS

WASHINGTON, July 19.—General Pershing's communique for yesterday confirms press reports of the complete success of yesterday's attack between the Aisne and the Marne by combined American and French forces. The dispatch follows:

"Section A.—American troops, co-operating with the French in an attack on the enemy positions between the Aisne and the Marne penetrated his lines to a depth of several miles, capturing many prisoners and guns."

ENEMY RAILWAY SYSTEM SERIOUSLY HANDICAPPED. PARIS, July 19. (Havas Agency).—Reviews of the fighting in the Allied counter offensive, printed by the Paris papers today, lay stress upon the interference with enemy's railway communication occasioned by the speedy Allied advance.

"Our progress southeast of Soissons" says the Echo d'Paris, "prevented the enemy from bringing into action his reserves over the railway in the vicinity of Laon, near Chateau Thierry around Rheims and along the Aisne. He had expected to secure great results from the use of the reserves."

AMERICANS IN BATTLE MOST SINCE CIVIL WAR WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE

PARIS, Thursday, July 18, 6 P. M. While the American force engaged in the present battle is small in comparison with the total Allied strength it may be said that it is greater than any participating in a battle since the Civil War and the conduct of the men is eliciting the commendation of the French. They have performed the parts assigned to them with steadiness, courage and skill.

To a large portion of the Americans these four days have been their first real fighting. Reports from along the line indicate a great deal of clean open warfare, some spontaneous localized operations being undertaken without a preliminary barrage and it is in action of this character that the American units have won the praise of the French.

The American transport, both of munitions and of the hospital service is working smoothly and efficiently behind the lines. The correspondent encountered ambulances and trucks filled with what are known as stiling cases which had already been attended to at the advanced dressing stations. These were on their way to the rear and frequently in their passing they forced to roadies, groups of German prisoners being escorted to the camps.

Call for Two Men. Local Board for District No. 5 has received a call for two limited service men to be sent to Syracuse, for training as port guards for the five-day period beginning July 29.

Miss Rottler Improving. Miss Alma Rottler, who underwent an operation at the Cottage State hospital, is getting along very nicely.

Arrives Safe Overseas. Mrs. C. R. Cook of Snydertown has received word that her husband, Russell Cook, arrived safely over there.

necessary, and the farmers are showing a willingness to bring in their goods if Connelville people will patronize them. Men who have formerly spent hours going over the city streets with their goods will be at the curb market where their customers can find them.

County Farm Agent P. E. Dougherty was on hand this morning. He said he could get the farmers to bring their goods to the city but that he couldn't make the people buy, and if they wanted the advantage of produce fresh from the farm they would have to turn out on market days and get their goods early so that the farmers could return to their work.

One woman this morning filled her basket with the opening of the market and taking it home, returned for a second load. Last Tuesday many women did not have baskets in which to carry their purchases, but all were supplied with them this morning.

Among the farmers at the market this morning were: John Craig, Connelville; Jesse W. Blair, Perryopolle; Tom Amick, Smock; S. W. Dunn, Flatwoods; Thida Kern, Normalville; William Kirkpatrick, Smock; James Fasson, Trotter; Leon Fasson, Trotter; Frank Curtis, Connelville; A. C. Ogilvie, Vanderhill; John Smith, Dunbar, and E. E. Arnold, Flatwoods.

announced that the latest wires gave the American troops a penetration of 15 miles into the Hun's lines. He also said it was reported that Austria was about ready to surrender to the Allies. This thrilling news brought a cheer after cheer from more than a thousand throats. Early morning papers, arriving here about 2:30 o'clock were quickly bought up but the stories in circulation here and in the papers did not coincide.

The South Side residents were the last to be awakened by the celebrators. While speech-making was in progress at Brimstone corner shortly after 2 o'clock a fire truck went out South Pittsburg street and put a siren into play. When the parade arrived everyone was awakened.

Someone would call out for the cause of the excitement and the answer would be "Americans capture 200,000 German prisoners." Then another drench patriots would join the ever growing parade. At another Brimstone corner gathering about 2:30 o'clock the band played "The Star Spangled Banner" while hundreds took up the air and sang the words.

Enthusiasm was raised to a higher pitch when Attorney J. Kirk Renner said it was understood that the American forces were half way through Belgium. After this one, the "reports" ceased to come. The crowd broke up into groups and discussed the situation in related tones. Others rode around the city streets singing war time songs.

ADMIRAL TAKES ACTIVE PART IN BASEBALL GAME

The opening match of the Anglo-American Baseball League at the Arsenal baseball ground, Highbury, between teams from the United States Navy and United States Army, was distinguished by the active part taken by Admiral Sims.

RARITY OF TRIPLE PLAY IN BASEBALL CONTESTS

An idea of the rarity of the triple play in baseball may be gained from the experience of Miller Huggins. It was about twenty years ago that Huggins began his baseball career and this is his fifteenth season in the major league. After the Yankees reeled off a triple play a few days ago in a game against the White Sox, Huggins remarked that it was the second such play he had seen since he put on his first baseball uniform. The other occurred when he was a member of the Cincinnati Reds and Huggins played a hand in this performance. When it is recalled that Huggins has been player or manager in close to 2,500 major games it becomes evident that the triple play is indeed a rarity.

CIRCUIT CLOUT RECORD CHALLENGED BY DONLIN

Mike Donlin was up in the press box at the Polo grounds, New York city, recently, and during a lull said: "I see where the boys claim Babe Ruth established a record by making four home runs in four successive days. Well, Babe only tied the record." "Bill Bradley," the old third baseman of the Cleveland team, playing against the Phillies in Philadelphia, back in 1901, did the same stunt. Four days running he slammed out a circuit clout.

JOHNNY EVERS WILL TEACH "OVER THERE"

Johnny Evers, former second baseman of the old Chicago Cubs, is imbued with patriotic fervor. He has volunteered for service in France and will have charge of the baseball activities of the American troops. Christy Mathewson had been offered the place, but considered it his duty to boost the game and keep it alive at home as a leader for the army "over there." For more than a decade Evers has been recognized as one of the brainiest players in baseball. He always has given the game his best effort and his fighting qualities have led him into many misadventures. Evers' health is much improved and he hopes to be the means of spreading the national game of the United States among the soldiers of other countries.

BASEBALL PLAYED BY MANY SOLDIER BOYS

League Has Been Organized Among Pershing's Men.

National Sport Also in Full Swing in Training Camps on This Side of Atlantic—Number of Athletic Fields Increased.

While the soldiers of Uncle Sam are handing a solar plexus to the Germans, the men in khaki back of the front and the thousands in training in camps on this side of the Atlantic are enjoying the national sport to the limit. A baseball league has been organized among Pershing's men, and at each cantonment in the United States, the great sport so popular in America is in full swing. Because of the marked interest in the game among the American soldiers, the commission on training camp activities of the war department has decided to increase the number of athletic fields.

Camp Lewis, Wash., probably heads the list for baseball fans. The soldiers in this large western cantonment have 16 diamonds and are clearing ground for more fields. Exhibition games have been staged, with the cooperation of the major leagues, which have brought in large gate receipts. More than 70,000 baseballs and 8,000 bats have been sent to the American camps. Large quantities of gloves, masks and chest protectors have been given to the sport-loving soldiers. The government is determined to keep the fighters fit for war. The primary purpose in keeping the men systematically engaged in athletic activity in the training camps, is to educate the soldiers to be better fighters.

Men just out of the mud-soaked trenches of France, after nerve-racking days amid flying bullets and bursting shells, instinctively turn to athletics for much-needed diversion. It is a big task to organize the vast army of Uncle Sam, but the problem is being solved, and at the rest periods between strenuous days of fighting "over there" and between training "over here," the soldiers have something to do.

FORMER BASEBALL PLAYER WINS COMMISSION IN NAVY

Jack Leary, formerly of the St. Louis American league ball team, has won his commission as ensign in the navy. Leary enlisted as ordinary seaman and won an appointment to the Harvard Naval Training school. He was one of the class who recently received their commissions from Admiral Woods. He will be put on active duty.

Braves Get Pitcher Upham. Pitcher Bill Upham, who jumped the St. Paul team last year to play independent ball, has been secured by the Boston Braves in a deal with St. Paul, and with a major league berth in prospect is right glad to mend his pitching ways.

NEW RECORDS for your TALKING MACHINE

Going away soon? Or will you spend your vacation at home this year? In either case you must have some new records. You know the idea, this summer is "Vacations with Music." And that means, chiefly, dance music. Therefore, you'll find especially interesting the new Columbia dance records. One of the maddest, merriest of them is "At the Cotton Pickin' Ball"—by the Marimbaphone Band. Ever hear marimbaphone music? It is the best dance melody you've ever stepped out on the floor to. Another of these catchy, scappy Columbia dance records is a one-step melody by Frisco's Band, called "Those Cotton Blossoms Grow." Backed by a fast-trot "Rose Room" by the same musicians, this record is one of the hits of the season for dancing.

"Cheer Up, Mother" is the mother song of the day. You'll find it among the August group of Columbia records, which are now going on sale. It is a sweet duet of charm and tenderness, with a wonderful melody, sung by Dorena and Fred. On the record is a splendid war song by the famous Peerless Quartette.

One of the best records you've heard in many a long month is to be found in the August Columbia group. It is "Frangene"—a brilliant, vivid bit of Neapolitan music, played by Frisco's Band, and introducing a novel harmony by a vocal chorus. On the back is the stirring French military march, "The National Defile."

Two of the big song-successes that everybody, everywhere, is singing and whistling are "Rock-a-bye Your Baby with a Dixie Melody," Al Jolson's hit of the Winter Garden, and "The Daughter of Rosie O'Grady," a song with a haunting lilt to the chorus that somehow reminds you of the original "Rose." Columbia offers both of these in its August group of records—the Jolson song coupled with a rousing good selection, "After I'm in Wonderland," while on the back of the other hit is a beautiful tenor duet by Campbell and Burr. Here is a chance for you to own a new record.

WOMEN DRIVERS FEAR TOO MUCH

Fair Motorist Expresses Opinion That They Lack Confidence in Themselves.

DRIVING IS STATE OF MIND

Many Know What to Do Under Practically All Conditions and Still Fail to Do It—Best Nerve Tonic in the World.

As has been said about worry—namely, that most of one's troubles never happen—so the fear that a woman has in driving a car is not so much that as it is the fear of being afraid. At least that is the opinion of a well-known woman motorist.

"From my own experience and the experience of other women to whom I have talked about the subject, I believe the most difficult thing a woman has to overcome in learning to drive a car is not to be afraid of being afraid," says this expert woman driver. "Probably this sounds a little complicated, and a harder way to say it would be that women as a whole, I believe, lack confidence in themselves to handle the unexpected, should the unexpected occur."

Easy to Handle Car.

"A lot has been said about driving. Much advice has been offered as to what to do and what not to do. I believe that good driving is simply a state of mind and that as soon as any one discovers how easy it is to handle a car and how near an impossibility it is for an emergency to arise that cannot be met with little effort, when the simple mechanism of the modern car is mastered, she has learned about all there is to know in order to drive a car."

"Of course one might know what to do under practically all conditions, and still not do it. Here is where lots of women fail as good drivers; their fear of doing the wrong thing is so great that they do nothing at all."

Material Benefits.

"I have yet to see any woman who has not been materially benefited by driving. The fresh air, the co-ordination of eye, mind and muscle, the exhilaration of feeling that you are master of the powerful and yet tractable motor, and that it will answer your every whim, cannot help but have a beneficial effect on the nerves. In fact, I firmly believe that driving is the best nerve tonic in the world."

"I have driven my car over thousands of miles of all kinds of roads—boulevards, deserts and mountains. The fact that I have never had an accident of any kind adds a lot to the sum total of my pleasure, of course, but I know that even had I experienced a lot of trouble I would not sacrifice for a great deal the actual wealth in health and the joy of driving that I have experienced in my car."

USE FOR CHAIN TIGHTENERS

Device Hooks on in Jiffy and Gives Even Tension All Around—Spring Is Used.

If you are annoyed by "stepping" tire chains, or the occasional experience of having a chain get unhooked and lost, you may care to know of a chain tightener which hooks on in a jiffy, catching the chain at five points and giving an even tension all around. A spring holds the chain close to the tire, but not tightly enough to prevent the creeping motion which would damage the tread.

HAMMER IN REPAIRING AUTO

Care in Use of Tool Is One of First Things Amateur Should Learn in Fixing Engine.

Care in the use of the machinist's hammer, which forms a part of the tool equipment of every automobile, is one of the first things the amateur automobile repair man must learn when working around the engine, says a writer in the current issue of American Motorist. With this hammer he can do more damage in a moment than a good man can repair in a week. His first inclination is to use this form of persuasion on any and every refractory part, and this is a desire which should be overcome.

Not only should the hammer itself not be used on any metal parts without the intervention of a block of wood to protect the surface, but care must be exercised to avoid hitting the other parts through the inaccuracy of aim that distinguishes the unskilled wielder of this tool.

A poorly aimed blow that misses its target and lands on one of the valve push rods or similarly vulnerable parts with any degree of force is apt to cause trouble of an expensive nature. It is a good thing for the novice to be sparing in the use of his hammer as a cure-all.

CARING FOR RADIATOR CAPS

Practice of Using It to Push Cap Back Is Dangerous as It Is Likely to Break.

When it is necessary to back a car into place for filling the first thing on which most drivers settle is the radiator cap. This is rather a dangerous practice, for the chance of a cap being jammed against this part is Invention of New Yorker Does Away With Necessity of Wiggling Arm Outside Car.

The autoist who in the daytime wiggles one arm outside his car to indicate that he is going to stop or turn will at night be relieved of that duty when the invention of a New Yorker becomes a permanent attachment of motor cars. This is a combined, full light and electric semaphore with two right-angle, arrow-shaped hands.

DO YOU KNOW

That two or three pairs of pillars instead of one should be carried?

That you must know the load per tire in order to inflate properly?

That two horns should be installed when a long tour is to be made?

That one should never forget spare tire valves and a hand tire pump for emergency?

That in lapping the piston it should be given both a reciprocating and an oscillating motion?

That if the silent chain is exposed when in operation it should be oiled as frequently as possible?

That maximum tire mileage will be obtained if the casings always are properly inflated and kept free from cuts?

That if your car always is loaded to capacity the tire should be inflated to the maximum called for by the size, but if the load carried is less than normal the tire pressure can be reduced and easier riding obtained?

That when a stud has become "frozen" in place you can remove it by screwing on two nuts and turning the lower nut with a wrench? The upper one acts as a lock and allows the lower one to pull the stud around.

DEATH FOUND BOOTH READY

Lifelong Friend Declares That End Was Really Welcome to the Great Actor.

The last days of Edwin Booth at the end of a long and illustrious career, were a scene of quietude and peace. The great actor, who had lived a life of intense activity and struggle, found in his final days a calm and a peace that was truly remarkable. His friends and admirers gathered around him, and he welcomed them with a smile and a word. He was ready for the end, and he was ready to face it with courage and dignity.

Then, puffing at his pipe, he added: "I suppose I shall wear out here." So it was to be. Physical pain had made him more and more languid; weariness of everything had settled on his mind. The noble patience and the gentleness of his spirit never waned, but his expectation was turned eagerly toward the end. Death, to him, was the crowning mercy and blessing of life—truly a consummation devoutly to be wished.

"I cannot grieve at death," he wrote to me in a time of terrible affliction. "It seems to me the greatest boon the almighty has granted me. Why do you not look at this miserable little life, with all its ups and downs, as I do? At the very worst, it is but a scratch, a temporary ill, to be soon cured by that dear old doctor, Death, who gives us a life more healthful and enduring than all the physicians temporal or spiritual can give."

His last two years were passed in desultory reading, mostly on religious subjects, and in musing over the past and so he drifted away. As an actor he was great indeed—even greater, as in pondering on the subject, I have come to think, than his wonderful father. But to him living was infinitely more important than acting.

Feet of the Nations.

In future when we want to discover a man's nationality we shall no longer require to persuade him to talk to see whether his speech betrays him, all we will have to do is to look at his feet. According to one who has been studying the feet of the nations each has its own peculiar national characteristics, which form an important clue to the race to which owner belongs.

Thus the French foot, it is pointed out, is narrow and long. The Spanish foot is small, and elegantly curved—thanks to its Moorish blood—corresponding to the Castilian's pride of being "high in the instep." The Arab's foot is proverbial for its high arch. The Koran says that a stream of water can run under the true Arab's foot without touching it. The foot of the Scotch is high and thick. That of the Irish is flat and square, the English short and fleshy.

When Athens was in the zenith the Grecian foot was the most perfectly formed and exactly proportioned of any of the human race. Swedes, Norwegians, and Germans have the largest feet, Americans the smallest.

To Learn Fate of Sun.

It is by means of new stars that astronomers hope to establish what will be the ultimate fate of the sun and its attendant planets. Every star, and the sun is a star, is rushing through space at enormous speed. The sun is traveling toward Vega with a velocity of 12 miles a second. Other stars are known which possess a speed of 200 miles a second. There are in the sky great clouds of dark meteors, such as obstruct our view of the milky way. When a star hits one of these clouds there is a flash of fire as it tears its way through. If the swarm is small the star may escape, but if it is large the star is destroyed and its fragments go to increase the cloud that caused its destruction. The English astronomer who first observed the new star, says that it represents a catastrophe of enormous magnitude in its inconceivably remote fields.

IS ANCIENT CUSTOM

No One Knows Who Originated the "Round Robin."

Long in Use on Shipboard for Determining Each Sailor's Watch—Often Employed in the Form of a Petition.

That watch kept on board ship at night, while lying at anchor, is called the anchor watch. Generally speaking, it consists of one officer and one seaman, whose duties are to watch out for the safety of the ship, see that the anchor light is kept burning brightly, and take care that the vessel does not drag her anchor. If there are eight hours of darkness to be covered and eight men constitute the crew, these men are required to watch one hour each. If there be more or less men the question arises who is to go on watch first or last, or perhaps, who is to "lay over" until the next day.

It thus becomes necessary to ascertain who is to go on duty at a certain hour and each man must know when his turn comes. Arrangement for this is made by forming a "round robin," or putting it in another way, by "chalking for watches," which is accomplished in such a way that each sailor has the time for keeping his watch determined by lot, one not being favored more than another. The thing is decided in this way:

One man draws a large circle on the lid of a chest, or, if that is not convenient, the deck. The circle is subdivided into as many divisions as there are men, and each man makes his mark in one of the spaces. This may be a cross, a circle, a triangle, or any other sign that will suffice to identify him.

During the time the sailors are placing their marks within the division of the circle, one of their number is detained outside on deck and kept in ignorance of the identity of any author of any mark. When all have made their marks the round robin is complete. The man who was on deck is now called, someone else having made a mark for him. This man now proceeds to erase the marks, one by one. The owners of the marks are numbered from number one up, in succession, as he erases them, and their numbers are chalked up on the sides of the berths; those above number ten lying over until the next night. As the man who erases the marks does not know who made this or that, he cannot show any partiality.

The round robin is sometimes put to other use when the crew of a vessel at sea wish to present a grievance in the form of a petition to the captain. Their complaint is made out in writing, and the signature put in the form of a round robin, which prevents the writer of the document from being singled out and treated, as a ringleader, with undue severity. A famous case in example of similar use of the round robin in the army within recent times was the "Roosevelt Round Robin" during the Spanish war.

Where the custom originated no one knows.

Red Were of Funereal Hue—Other

The toughest American wood is that of the Osage orange, which is not an orange at all, but belongs to the nettle family. This has just been proved by a series of tests made by the United States forest service, but the Indians knew it before the coming of the white man and it was known to them as the bow tree, because they used it for making their finest bows.

Some idea of its strength may be had from a report just made by the forest service, which shows that a block 30 inches long and 2 inches by 2 inches in cross section when bent breaks under a stress of 13,460 pounds, its nearest rival being a variety of the hickory called mockernut. When bent by the impact of a hundred-pound hammer it stands a stress of 15,530 pounds, certain sugar maples and the honey locust being its nearest rivals. It exceeds the hickories, and its only rival in hardness, tested by the force required to embed a .44-inch ball to one-half its diameter, is the honey locust.

New Generator Finds Favor.

An acetylene generator, supplying fuel for propelling motorboats is the device of a Norwegian captain and is reported to be in great demand, although the average cost is 21 cents per horse power hour. The gas given off as water is dropped upon calcium carbide, is led to the carburetor, where it is purified and fed to the motor. Though this apparatus is adapted only for the ordinary gasoline motor a modification is being worked out that is expected to serve for engines designed to burn kerosene.

GIVEN HONOR NOT DESERVED

Error of Learned Men Responsible for America Being Named After Amerigo Vespucci.

The story of how the new world received the name of America is a striking example of what publicity will accomplish. Amerigo Vespucci, a highly educated Florentine, was head of a business house in Seville, Spain, probably as agent for the great trading firm of the Medicis, and helped to fit out one of the expeditions with which Columbus sailed. When the latter's monopoly was revoked, Vespucci undertook several voyages of exploration on his own account, during which he claimed in many letters to have been the first to reach the mainland of the new continent, giving the date as June, 10, 1497.

On April 25, 1507, the learned heads of the University of St. Die, in Lorraine, decided, incorrectly, that he was entitled to the honor of discovery. Columbus, having only reached the islands of the West Indies, and that the western hemisphere should bear his name. The name America was, therefore, first used in the book "Cosmographie Introductio," by Martin Waldseemüller, professor of cosmography at the university.

It has since been shown that Vespucci was preceded by both Columbus and John Cabot, but it was too late, the new world had been christened America and the fact advertised in print. The house where the meeting was held at which the classical error was made was still standing at St. Die at the outbreak of the war, and was annually visited by many tourists from both North and South America.

POI-HAWAIIAN NATIONAL DISH

Is Being Introduced Into the United States and Is Said to Be Meeting With Favor.

Hawaii is making a food-saving contribution in the shape of poi, its national dish made from the bulb of the taro plant. Until 20 years ago poi was made under primitive conditions, the bulbs being peeled, boiled and pounded in a wooden trencher until a semiliquid paste was formed. But today modern sanitary machinery is used to manufacture the product, under supervision of health authorities in the island, and five factories at Hilo now turn out several tons daily.

This new form of poi is being sent to the United States, reaching markets as far away as New York city, and a demand which began with Hawaiians who had come to the United States is generally being extended to Americans who have learned to like the dish.

Poi is frequently used in Hawaiian hospitals in the diet of patients whose stomachs are too weak to digest other food, and the war interest in substitute foods is expected to lead to its wider introduction elsewhere.

No Lazy Man's Place.

If you saw "The Bird of Paradise" and then listened to some folk talk you may be under the impression Hawaii is a land where Americans go and just naturally forget how to work. He down beneath a shady, spreading tree and listen to the thrum of the Hawaiian guitars until they're lulled into a sleep from which they seldom are aroused. "That stuff," said E. S. Pixson, of Honolulu, "is all right, but it's for story books and comic operas. I went to Honolulu 13 years ago from Philadelphia, became president of the Rotary club, a member of the legislature and head of the largest automobile concern in Honolulu. When I came back to the United States I don't find any of my old companions are staying up any later at night than I do or travel faster than I do. Don't let any one put that 'go-to-sleep-and-never-wake-up' idea into your head. Hawaii is not a lazy man's country, by any means."

Britain's "Baby Army."

When the British troops reached Italy they were nicknamed "The Baby Army." The Italians were so surprised at the smart appearance of the newcomers—differing so materially as it did from the picture presented by the home troops whom they passed—that in the belief that they had come straight from England, they were called "The Baby Army," as a matter of fact the British soldiers were war-worn veterans from the Tiper salient.

Marksmanship and Muscles.

Marksmanship with the rifle is not so much a matter of keenness of sight as of muscular steadiness. Arthur I. Gates of Teachers' college, New York, describes in the Journal of Applied Psychology some tests made by him which prove that the most accurate marksmen are those whose muscular control is so perfect that slight distractions, subjective anxiety and auto-suggestion do not disturb it.

CHAPTER XX.

Kitchen—the Real Stuff.
Neustrelitz was mainly for Russian prisoners, and there were neither British nor French soldiers interned there—only soldiers of the merchant marine such as the men I was with. The Russians were given far worse treatment than any other prisoners. This was for two reasons, as near as I could make out. One was that the Russian would stand most anything, whereas the British and French could only be goaded to a certain point, and beyond that lay trouble. The other reason was that the Russians sent German prisoners to Siberia, or at least, so the Huns thought, and Fritz hates the cold. So, hating the Russians, and realizing that they were used to being under-dogs, Fritz picked on them and bullied them in a way that the rest of us would not have stood. We would have rushed them and gone west with bayonets first.

The barracks were made of spruce, and were about ninety feet long and twenty-five feet wide, and you can take it from me that as carpenters, whoever made them were fine farmers. There were cracks in them that you could drive an automobile through. When we were there, each barracks had a stove in the center, a good stove and a big one, but at first it was of no use to us, because the Germans would not give us coal or wood for it. But after shivering for a while, we began ripping the boards out of the barracks, and taking the dividing boards from the benches that we used for beds.

Later, they gave each of us a mattress filled with wood shavings, and a blanket that was about as warm as a pane of glass. The mattresses were placed on the ground in the barracks which were very damp, and after three or four days, the shavings would begin to rot, and the mattresses to smell. In order to keep warm we slept as close together as we could, which caused our various diseases to spread rapidly.

When we were receiving our rations, the sentries would offer us an extra ration if we would take a lash from their belts. We were so hungry that many and many a man would go up and take a swat in any part of his body from the heavy leather belts with brass-tipped ends, just to get a little more "shadow" soup or barley coffee or meat-bread.

One morning the sentries picked out ten men from our barracks, of which I was one, and drilled us over a field near the kitchen. There was a large tank in the field and we had to pump water into it. It was very cold, and we were weak and sick, so we would fall—one after another not caring whether we ever got up or not. Fritz would smash those who fell with his rifle butt. We asked for gloves because our hands were freezing but all we got was "Nichts."

After we had been there for about an hour and a half, one of our men became very sick, so that I thought he was going to die, and when he fell over, I reported it to a sentry. The sentry came over, saw him lying in the snow, yelled "Schwein nicht krank!" grabbed him by the shoulder, and pulled him all the way across the field to the office of the camp commander. Then he was placed in the guard house, where he remained for two days. The next thing we knew the Russians had been ordered to make a box, and were being marched to the guard house to put him in it and bury him.

Another thing at Neustrelitz, that was pretty hard to stand was the pretty habit the Huns had of coming up to the barbed wire and teasing us as though we were wild animals in a cage. Sometimes there would be crowds of people lined along the wire throwing things at us, and spitting and having a great time generally. It was harder than ever when a family party would arrive with water and butter, and maybe groats and sausage and all the little Boche kinder, because, as you probably know, the Germans take food with them whenever they go on a party, no matter what kind, and they would stand there and stare at us like the boobies they were, eating all the time—and we so hungry that we could have eaten ourselves, almost. After they had stared a while, they would begin to feel more at home, and then would start the throwing and spitting and the "schweinhund" sangerfest, and they would have a great time generally. Probably, when they got home they would strike off a medal for themselves in honor of the visit.

Then, too, there were always Hun soldiers on leave or off duty, who made it a point to pay us a visit, and though I do not think they were as bad as the civvies, especially the women, they were bad enough.

We had one bucket in each barracks, and as these buckets were used for both washing and drinking, they were always dirty. We boiled the water when we washed the clothes, to get rid of the cooties and that left a settling in it that looked just like red lead. We had to get the water from a hydrant outside of the barracks, and for a while we drank it. But after several of the boys had gone west and we could not figure out why a man told us he thought the water was poisoned, and a Russian doctor who was a prisoner, slipped us word about it also. So, after that, very few of us drank water from the hydrant. I was so stiff at first because I had had some of the water, but after that I did not touch hydrant water.

It was a good thing for us that there was always plenty of snow in Germany, and even luckier that the Huns did not shoot us for eating it. It was about the only thing they did not deprive us of—it was not verboten.

I thought I knew what tough cooties were in the trenches, but they were regular mollycoddles compared to the pets we had in the prison camps. After we boiled our clothes we would be free from them for not more than two hours and then they would come back, with re-enforcements, thirsting for vengeance.

The camp at Neustrelitz was surrounded by big dogs which were kept just outside the barbed wire. We had them going all the time. Every once in a while some fellow would make an awful racket and the next thing you knew, there was Fritz coming like a shot, with musket at his hip just as they carry them in a charge and blowing whistles at each other until they were blue in the face. Whenever they thought some one was escaping, they ran twice as fast as I ever saw them run, except when the Foreign Legion was on their heels at Dixmude.

Italian Planes Guard Both Venice and Manhattan.

This view of Venice from an aeroplane might easily be mistaken for one of New York City from an aeroplane flying over Brooklyn. The is and in the foreground corresponds to Governor's Island. The background, finely outlined, might be the shores of New Jersey across the Hudson. There is even a white tower discernible which might be the Metropolitan tower.

But closer inspection will reveal the fact that the tower is situated much too near the water front to be in its proper spot at Madison Square.

The aeroplanes in the picture are two of the many planes which guard the famous art treasures of the Queen of the Adriatic from Austrian attack. Today Caproni planes are protecting New York City from possible enemy aircraft attack in much the same fashion. When the military authorities decided to darken Manhattan at night and to establish an aerial patrol the Caproni planes, here to be used in the training of American aviators, were immediately offered to the government by the Italian authorities and patrolled the air lanes over the great city so that millions might not have their slumbers disturbed by possible raiding Huns.
